

Follow your passion, IIM-V students told

DC CORRESPONDENT
VISAKHAPATNAM, JAN. 17

Students should follow their own passion to be successful in their lives, said Co-Promoter, MD and CEO of Info Edge (India) Limited Hitesh Oberoi.

On Tuesday, the Indian Institute of Management-Visakhapatnam has celebrated its third foundation day on its campus inside Andhra University. Mr Oberoi, who was the chief guest of the day, explained his entrepreneurial journey from the IIT and IIM-Bangalore. "Talent alone cannot lead you to places. You need to complement your talent with hard work. Given the current push for the entrepreneurial ecosystem in the country, it's time to start your career as an entrepreneur," Mr Oberoi said. In-charge director of IIM-Bangalore and mentor director of the IIM-Visakhapatnam Prof. R. Srinivasan, and nodal officer of IIM-Visakhapatnam Prof. L.S. Murty addressed the faculty, students and staff and highlighted the IIM-Visakhapatnam's achievements in the last year.

Prizes were distributed to the students and the staff who won various sports events conducted during the last one year.