PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The participants of this program will be trained to provide leadership as educators, administrators, and facilitators of educational change in their institutions and communities, as follows :

1. Develop a deep understanding of the knowledge, skills, and attributes necessary to function as an effective leader in academic institutions.
2. Identify the challenges and levers of managing and leading organizations.
3. Imbibe strategic thinking to lead organizational change and inspire high-performing teams.
4. Appreciate the nuances of cross-functional coordination and develop conflict resolution and consensus-building techniques.

PEDAGOGY

To capture the pragmatic, action-oriented nature of a leader's job involved in today's dynamic educational environment, case teaching method will be used and supplemented with the readings, lectures, role-plays, or other interactive exercises, as necessary. The skills this course seeks to develop can be sharpened only through practice. This calls for exposing the participants to the "real world" in the classroom! The case method is the most suitable pedagogical device in this regard. It enables one to simulate the "real world" in the classroom as closely as feasible.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This program is designed for emerging leaders who seek to play a more significant role in the success of their institute. The program is open for permanent faculty from any discipline with at least three years of teaching experience in centrally-funded technical institutions.

FIRST BATCH

The first batch of this program will be conducted from the 11 to 15 March 2024 in residential mode.

FREE PROGRAM

The first batch of the program is being fully funded by the Ministry of Education, GoI. This is a residential program and IIMV will take care of the board and lodging (single occupancy) of the participants. However, the travel costs of the participants shall need to be borne by the respective institutions themselves.
